SENIOR YEAR "THE WILDEST"

Senior year at last! Suddenly after four years you wake up and find that its only days before graduation and then you will be in the real world. The four years have created lasting memories.

We entered Astoria High as excited nervous freshmen in 1981. It was a new Beginning. Students from three different schools met and developed Friendships. As sophomores we became adjusted to the school, no longer those "Freshmen". School levies failed four times and many were making plans to attend other schools.

Finally junior year we became Upperclassmen, and we liked it! Sadness struck the class with the loss of two classmates.

This Year the class really came together, in school activities and outside of school.

Lencho, Todd, Mark, and Shane looking tough and mean.

Lisa and Julie kicking up their heels at a pep assembly.

Andy and Craig dressed up to the hilt and looking spiffy casual.

We seniors reigned over Homecoming and the Varsity Basketball and the Varsity Basketball Team went to state! This was the last year we would be together and our class made it the best year ever!! Good luck to everyone in the future!!!

CLASS OF 1985 SENIORS

REIGN OVER HOMECOMING

Here, a few important memories are captured during the last Homecoming Week for the class of 1985. TOP LEFT: Senior Varsity football studs show their hidden talents as they prepare for their final season of high school play. TOP RIGHT: Senior class president Eric Bruner acts as commentator at the Queen's Luncheon. MIDDLE LEFT: Powderpuff coaches Craig Nelson and Andy Westerberg organize attack formations with their team before the big game. ABOVE: Long-armed seniors control rioting crowds during Olympic games. LEFT: Craig Nelson and Sandi Gayson try to fight their animal attraction over a green lifesaver.

Quarterback Eric Bruner prepares to pass the ball to running back Craig Nelson. Below: Number 75 Bruce Blair, number 82 Pat Kuske and Number 45 Brian Babbitt work together to block the advance of Scappoose.

The Astoria High School varsity football team closed out its 5-4 season with Scappoose. The game was played at home at John Warren Field. The Fishermen led into the third quarter riding on Pat Kuske's field-goal and a Craig Nelson touchdown. Astoria played tough and was lookin' good—victory was within reach but Scappoose came back to score two touchdowns and won the game 13-10.

THE 1984 HOMECOMING COURT

QUEEN JULIE VERMEUL WITH ESCORT BRIAN BABBITT

The Homecoming theme for 1984 was "Purple Reign" in honor of Prince's movie and album of the same name. The choice was an excellent play on words because Astoria's colors are purple and gold. The actual title by Prince is "Purple Rain" which is also ingenious considering the amount of precipitation in the city of Astoria! The court for '84 is pictured above from left to right: Freshman princess Nikki Martin with escort Greg Matthews, sophomore princess Jeni Marr with escort Shawn Helligso, junior princess Jill Tarabochia and her escort Trygve Klepp. The Homecoming Queen Julie Vermeul and her escort Brian Babbitt, senior princess Michelle Glackin and escort Mark Olson, senior princess Lisa Hendrickson with escort Eric Bruner.

Because the varsity will be losing so many seniors due to graduation the play experience on the junior varsity will be a great help to the team.

It was a cold day but that didn't hold back sophomore Pat Kadas.

ZEPHYRUS STAFF 85

"Then and Now" is the theme for the 1985 Zephyrus. We reflect now on our experiences as students. In future years we will reminisce about the times we have had together.

Middle Row- Scott Stryker, Pam Watts, Derek Walthers, Sonja Madsen, Troy Mather, Jenny Duoos, Mr. Foster

The Zephyrus Staff of 1984-85 had a very enjoyable time producing the yearbook. (Top Left) The first semester yearbook staff; Scott Stryker, Zeny Valdefiera, Jenny Duoos, Sherry Alderman and Cuc Bui. Not pictured Lori Hendriksen. Being one of the smallest staffs at A.H.S. we raised more money in advertising than any other of the past yearbook staffs. They take time out to demonstrate their cheerleading abilities while our very patient advisor Mr. Foster (Top Right) hands out many new page assignments that will hopefully be done before the summer is over! Katrina Carlson (Middle Left) is in a deep concentration doing a layout. Our Editor (Middle Right) Scott Stryker shows his expertise putting together and editing the yearbook. Not pictured in the color photo: From left to right; Mike Vanderveldt, Mike Sunseri, Carol Neeve, Sari Vedenoja, Sandi Haussman, and Robert Smith.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The 1984-85 Student Body Officers were: Eric Bruner (President), Mark Olson (Vice President), Anita Fairfield (Secretary), DeAnn Story (Treasurer), John Ruita (Parliamentarian), Mindy Knapp (Business Manager).

Astoria High School Student Council was extremely active this year with Eric Bruner serving as President of Cowapa League in addition to being A.H.S. Student Body President. The Council sponsored the first Blood Drive and the beautification of the track was started.

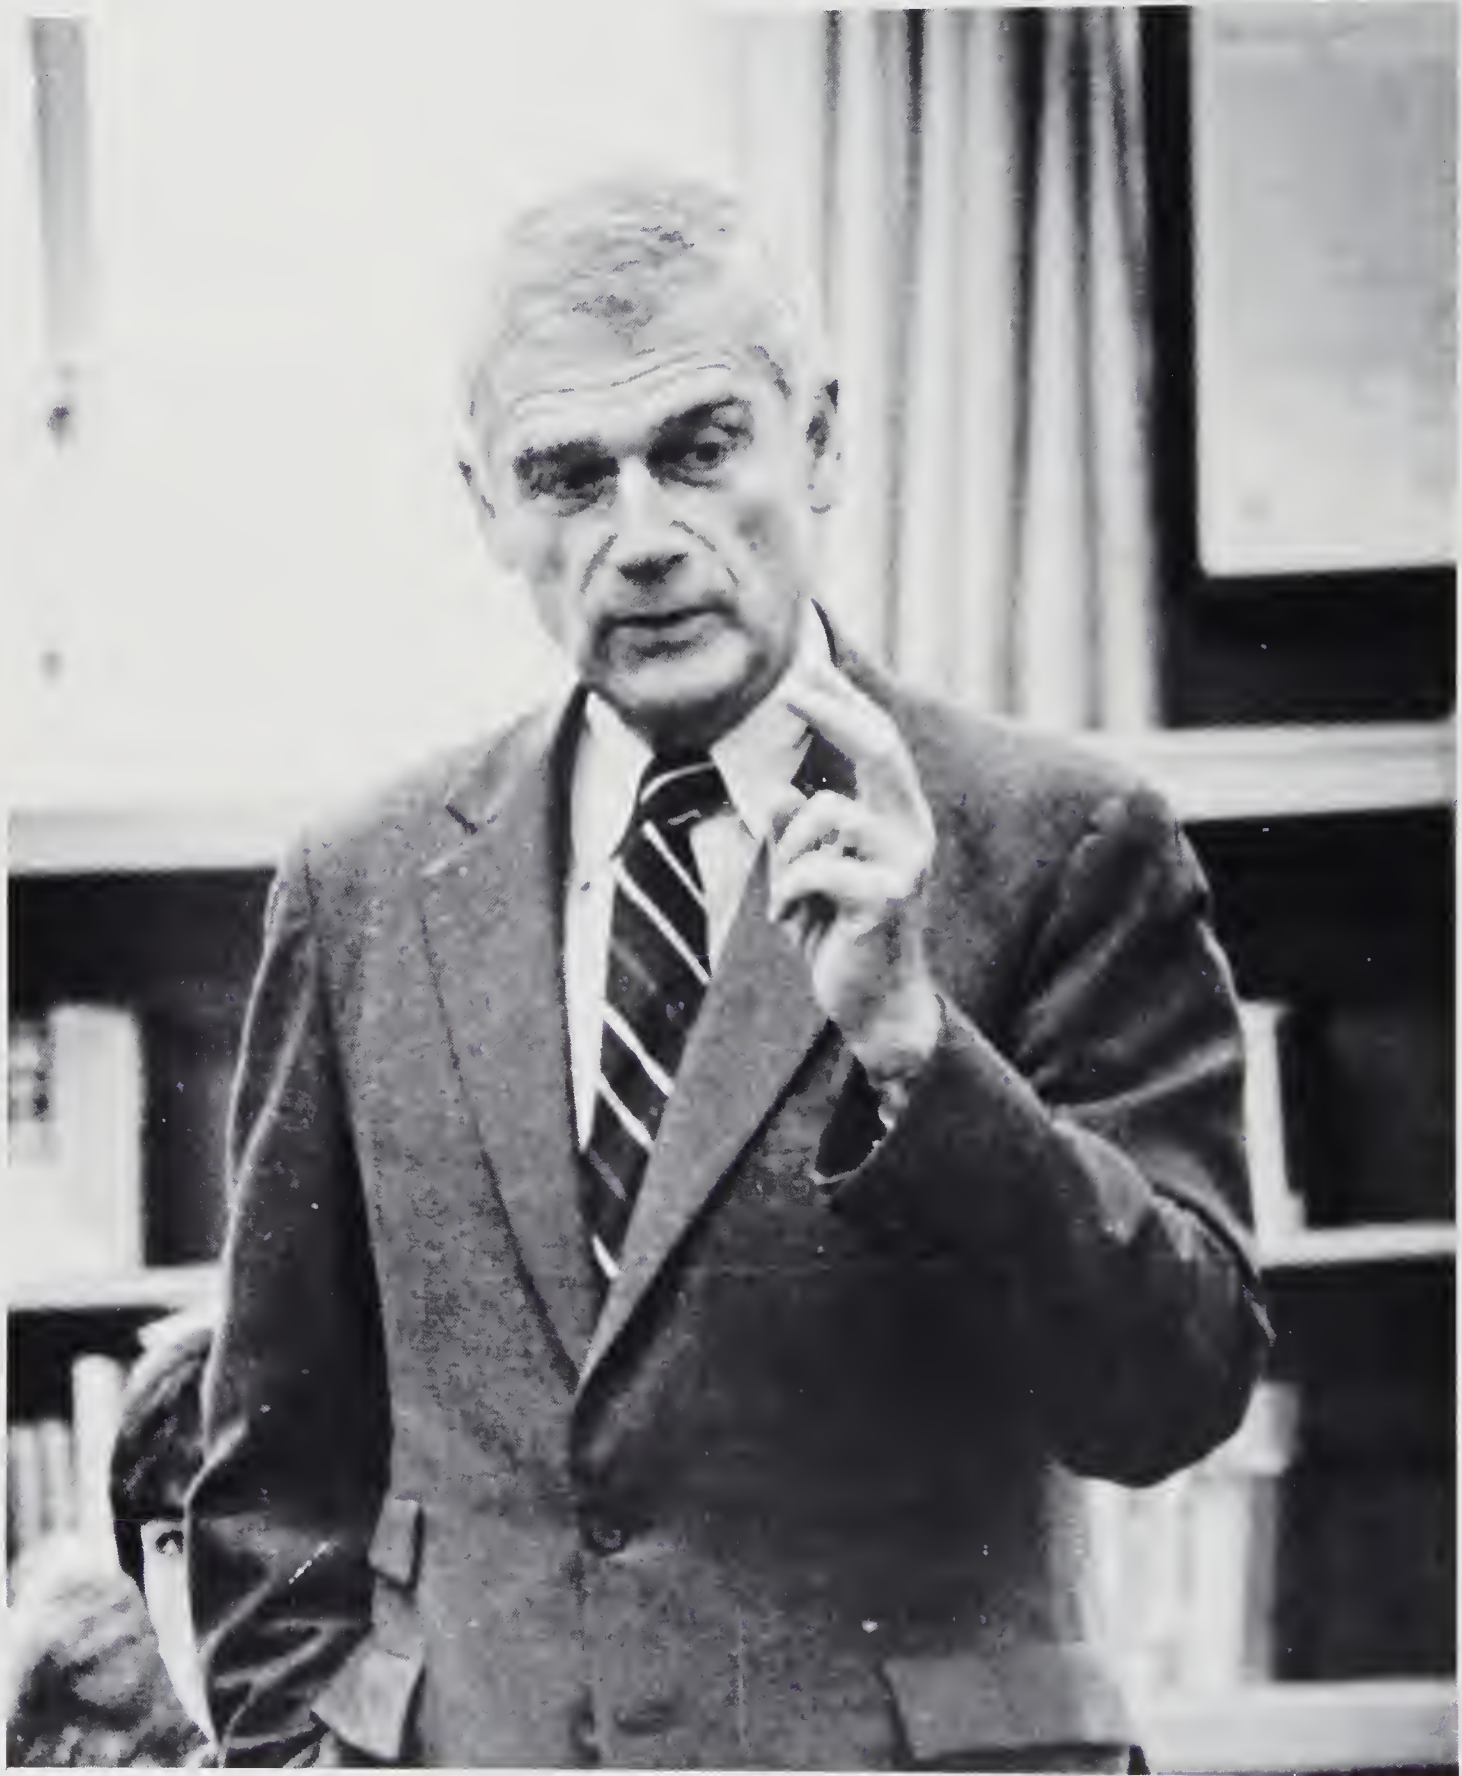

Opposite page, left, then clockwise: Carol Westerberg draws a winner at the Senior Citizen luncheon as Eric and Foz encourage. Anita is not sure a Blood Drive will be fun. Mr. Foster assures her the "First Quart" is not painful. Anita and Byran watch as Linda Oakley, of the American Red Cross, extracts the first pint. Everyone signs up to help with the tree planting. Ken Carson, Debbie Watson, and Cu Bui react as Amy Bruner discusses Homecoming events. The visit of Senator Mark Hatfield and of Scott Underwood Adam of Warner Bros. were two of the best Student Council meetings. The year was certainly measured as a success.

SENATOR MARK O. HATFIELD

On October 8, Senator Mark Hatfield gave a speech to the AHS student body. A large part of the Senators speech was concentrated on arms control. He stressed that he favored a nuclear freeze. Following that, Hatfield spent a good deal of time answering the questions of students.

Astoria High School hosted many Senior Citizen Luncheons this year, which were very successful. Above Julie Winlund and Lynda Pruzynski present some flowers won in a raffle to a few Senior Citizens. Student Council was the sponsoring organization.

The image shows the coat of arms of Baden. It consists of a black shield with a white oak tree in the center. The tree has a thick trunk and a dense canopy of leaves. At the base of the tree, there is a small white structure, possibly a castle or a fortification. Below the tree, the word 'Baden' is written in a white, stylized script font.

In 1985, the Astoria Varsity baseball team went to the state playoffs, a feat unattained since 1972. The first game of the playoffs was with Central Linn at Halsey. No score was made until the third inning when Teddy Winn scored on a base hit by Brian Babbitt. The score remained 1-0 until the seventh inning. The Astoria girls played great ball this year. At the beginning of the season, Coach Dave Lum was concerned the team would have trouble because they had not had enough practicing time. But despite this drawback, the Fisherettes pulled 7 wins and 10 losses for the season. The returning players from last year are Loretta Dawley, Carrie Rieck, Kim Harris, Angie Fox, Tara Haskell, and DeAnn Story. # AWARDS WON BY CLASS

Students of Mr. Holmstedt's Photography classes and Mrs. Kem's Graphic Arts class entered a series of art work in the annual NEA/Kodak Photography Contest. After being selected as finalists from more than 2,000 entries, the finished work was judged to be the best project from the nation and awarded first prize. The project centered around showing individual characteristics that make Astoria a unique community. Cameras focused on the people and details of Astoria that depicted the flavor and interest of the town. More than 100 students participated in the project and shot more than 1,000 pictures that were fitted into the matboards designed by art students. Individual categories of the project were fishing, architecture, logging, people, history, and schools. The finished work was displayed locally as well as in different galleries throughout the state.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

The three foreign exchange students have exciting futures planned out after they leave Astoria. Delfina Ely from Venezuela will be going back home for the summer to vacation on the beaches and spend time with her family in the Andes Mountains. She will be coming back to Oregon to go to college where she will major in international political science. Per Grevsnes from Norway plans to invest in the stock market and join the Norwegian Air Force. Paul Strong from Australia wants to major in biology at the University of Tasmania. Paul says another of his goals is to cross Australia on a Kangaroo. He will be staying the summer with the Sundstroms of Astoria. Per's main goal is to become a pilot and travel in outer space in his own space shuttle. He spent the summer with the Johnsons of Astoria. Per was involved in sports at Astoria High School such as football. Paul enjoys tennis and was active in STOP, Student-Teacher Organization to Prevent Nuclear War.

SPEECH TEAM

On April 11, 12, and 13, Ken Carson, Pat Kuske, Andrea Byrd, and Quenby Miller traveled to Portland State University for the state tournament. Pat Kuske and Andrea Byrd broke into the semi-finals at state, placing them in the top 14 of their events. Ken Carson earned the first medal from the state speech tournament ever to be won by an A.H.S. student. He also brought home a third place medal in Radio Commentary. Ken Chapman served as the coach this year, and helped bring about the great success of the team.

The students also raise sturgeon and annually mark, fin-clip, and freeze-brand 15,00 chinook. This year was Korpela's last year teaching. Next year the program will be taken over by Gus Fennerty. Bottom right: Jim Hill of CEDC and Darren Johnson at the hatch, a vertical incubator. Bottom left: Darren Johnson sorting rainbow trout.

ASTOR POST

The journalism crew: In back: Feature editor/assistant editor Andrea Byrd, editor-in-chief Ken Carson. Second row: reporters John Boelling and Marja Tila, sports/photo editor Mike Sunseri, reporters Jim Posey and John Banholzer. Front: reporters Kathleen Merrill, Charlotte Richardson, Chris Fastabend, and Arine Steinman. Not pictured: business/ad manager Lisa Hendrickson, reporters Quenby Miller and Curtis Runkle.

Not only were this year's journalism students multi-talented in their abilities in news, sports, feature, photo and art, they were unique. The journalism room showed the outspokenness of the group. Political slogans, cartoons and editorials covered the walls. Berkde Breathed's strip BLOOM COUNTY was plastered above the desks of the editors. The AP staff also sponsored a dance this year, the first staff to do so. The "Astor Post Tropical Extravaganza" was no ordinary bop. Radical tunes and obnoxious Hawaiian clothes were part of the theme. This AP staff left their mark everywhere in '85!

TOUR HISTORIC ANNAPOLIS

A Museum Without Walls

Maryland's capital, with its ancient plan of circles and radiating streets is one of the few American towns where the pleasure of strolling the scenic streets is part of today's lifestyle. Walking through a Registered National Historic Landmark with our professional guides, you can share in this pleasure. All proceeds from tours support the nationally renowned programs of Historic Annapolis, Inc., a private, non-profit preservation organization.

That Man Is A Success

Who has lived well, laughed often, and loved much;
Who has gained the respect of intelligent men and the love of children;
Who has filled his niche and accomplished his task;
Who leaves the world better than he found it.
Who never lacked appreciation of the earth's beauty or failed to express it;
Who looked for the best in others and gave the best he had.
